Summary Scope of Work:

The Jones Payne Group provided program formulation and implementation services on Indianapolis International Airport's residential sound insulation program from 1998 to 2002.

The Program Policy & Procedures manual was created to document the sound insulation program objectives and its policies, as well as project design criteria, acoustical treatment guidelines, and the design and construction process.

Services include:

- Program management
- Community outreach and information
- Homeowner liaison and coordination
- FAA/Agency coordination
- Acoustical criteria and guidelines
- Program policy and procedures manual
- Architectural and engineering design
- Contractor outreach and training
- Procurement and bidding
- Construction phase services
- Program evaluation and closeout

Special Features:

The Sound Insulation Program was closely coordinated with the purchase assurance component of the airport's noise mitigation program.
